The snake spoke and humanity listened and the atmosphere changed

Can you think of a time that words were like poison and had a major impact on your life?

Can you think of a time that your words were like poison and had a major impact on someone else's life?

Every time we speak we have the power to speak Light, Love, and Life but we also have the power to create Death, Doubt, and Confusion.
Who's voice are you going to echo?

Re-read James 3:5-12

Often we wait until someone is no longer with us to talk about how much they mean to us. What are some ways that we can use our words NOW to build people up?
